Is it really them?

Cut out the cards. Then make a plan.

Is the message really from your parent?

 It sounds like their voice	 It comes from their phone number	 There's a photo of them	 They're on a video call
 They use your nickname	 They know your dog's name	 They say your family's code word	 You hang up, call their saved number, and they answer

A voice message that sounds like your mum or dad: "I lost my phone. Send me the code you just got by text."

Our three steps, in order

Easy or hard to fake?

Put each card where it belongs.

Easy to fake	Takes some work	Hard to fake

Cut or tear along the dashed lines.

You get a message that sounds like someone you know. What makes it real enough to trust, and what would you check?
