1. Find

Underline the one sentence where the reasoning goes wrong.

2. Fix

Rewrite that sentence so the reasoning holds.

3. Explain why it convinces

What makes the wrong sentence sound right?

4. How would we test it?

Describe one way to check it, in class or at home.

Think back. One sentence about how you thought, not what you found.

If you find no error, mark the weakest step and say what would make it stronger.
